

TREES OF THE WORLD

Each continent has its own unique trees. Let's find out more.

Earth Map

WHAT IS A CONTINENT?

A continent is a huge piece of land, much bigger than a country. There are seven continents on Earth, like puzzle pieces that fit together. Each continent has different countries, landscapes, and animals. It's like having seven big playgrounds with lots of exciting things to explore and learn about!

North America

European

Asian

African

South America

Australian

Antarctica

WHERE ARE THE CONTINENTS?

Trees Trees Trees

SPECIAL TREES ON EACH CONTINENT

Each continent has a unique variety of trees that thrive in their specific environments. In North America, you can find towering evergreens like the majestic sequoias. South America boasts lush rainforests with diverse trees like the Brazil nut and rubber trees. Africa is home to the iconic baobab trees and acacia trees on the savannas. Europe has a mix of deciduous trees like oak and beech. Asia's forests feature bamboo, cherry blossoms, and teak. Australia has eucalyptus trees, and Antarctica has mosses and lichens.

'Let's find out more.'

Where in the world is it?

NORTH AMERICA – SEQUOIA

The sequoia tree is a giant among trees, and it's one of the most amazing trees in the world. These magnificent trees can grow to be as tall as a 26-story building, reaching heights of up to 311 feet (95 meters). They are also incredibly old, with some sequoias living for more than 3,000 years! These remarkable giants have trunks that can span up to 40 feet (12 meters) in diameter, making them some of the largest living organisms on Earth.

AMAZING STATISTICS

- Height: Up to 311 feet (95 meters).
- Age: Some live for over 3,000 years.
- Trunk Diameter: Up to 40 feet (12 meters).

STANDING NEXT TO A SEQUOIA TREE IS LIKE BEING IN THE PRESENCE OF LIVING HISTORY AND THE WONDERS OF NATURE.

Where in the world is it?

SOUTH AMERICA

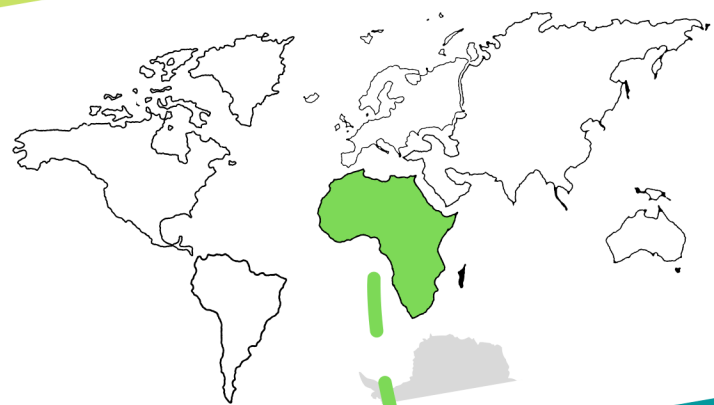

Where in the world is it?

EUROPE

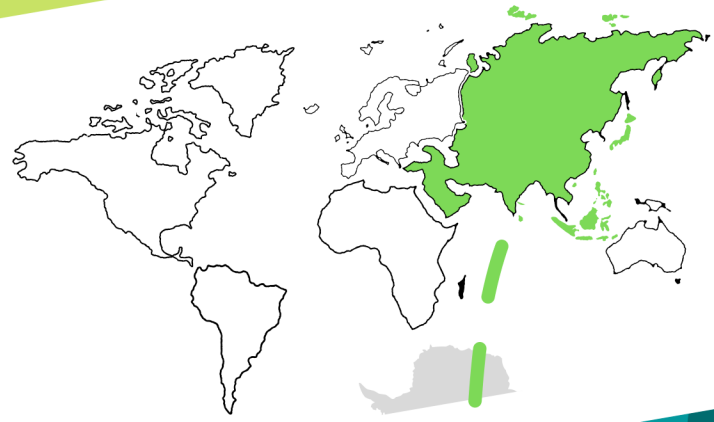

Where in the world is it?

AFRICA

Where in the world is it?

ASIA

Where in the world is it?

AUSTRALIA

Where in the world is it?

ANTARCTICA

A world map rendered in various shades of teal and blue, centered on the Atlantic Ocean. Overlaid on the map is a horizontal, light green brushstroke with a textured, hand-painted appearance. Inside this brushstroke, the words "THANK YOU!" are written in a clean, white, uppercase, sans-serif font.

THANK YOU!