

Planning Your Cultural Lesson

To create the perfect lesson, it is important that you ask yourself the right research questions. This will help you prepare to deliver a lesson where the children get the most out of your teaching. The questions below should help you.

What is the name of the culture or civilisation you are studying?
Where is this culture or civilisation located?
What are some important traditions or customs in this culture?
What types of food are commonly eaten in this culture?
What language(s) do people in this culture speak?
What are some traditional clothing styles in this culture?
What festivals or holidays are celebrated in this culture?
What are some famous landmarks or places in this culture?
What are some important values or beliefs in this culture?
