

Researching Celebrations

Use the research questions below to help you conduct thorough research on the celebrations in your culture before designing your unique page and adding it to your book.

What are the key celebrations or festivals in this culture, and how are they marked?

--

Are there any specific symbols or items that play a significant role in these celebrations?

--

How do people prepare for these festivities (decorations, costumes, rituals)?

--

Are there any unique customs or practices observed during these celebrations?

--

Do these celebrations involve any particular music, dance, or performances?

--

How do communities come together to observe these celebrations?

--

Are there any traditional games or activities that are part of these festivities?

--

How do these celebrations reflect the history or values of the culture?

--

Are there special foods or meals that are traditionally prepared?

--