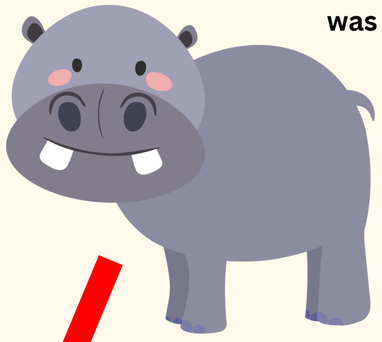
Title: Help at Last

It was a very cold day in the forest.

Suddenly, the fox heard what sounded like an owl hooting in pain.

The Fox started to follow the sounds.

The fox was helpless and because he was alone there was no chance he could save the owl.



Suddenly a Hippo appeared and asked what was going on?

The owl was saved and the Three decided to go for a walk by the lake together!!

Start

The fox was walking around looking for a friend.

With nodody around, he decided to have a rest by the river.

Complication

He decided it was time to see if he could help out!!

Resolution

Eventually he found the owl but he was too high in the tree to reach.

The Hippo had a smart Idea to make a see-saw and spring the fox up to help the owl.

End

Lesson = Teamwork is dreamwork.
