

A woman with dark hair and a worried expression is in the foreground. In the background, a family (a man, a woman, and a child) is walking away, blurred.

"Parents can only give good advice or put them on the right paths , but the final forming of a person's character lies in their words."

Anne Frank