

What are Inferential Clues?

Sometimes illustrators leave little clues to tell you more about the characters or the setting. What do these clues tell you?

Why do they have a plant on the window ledge?

Sergio told his father what had happened at school. His father was very proud.

Who is the lady in the picture and why is she not eating dinner with them?

Why is Sergio sitting on books instead of having a larger chair?

Why do you think the penguins have a rug on the floor of their house?
